DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

Claims 6, 8, 10 and 16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hirasawa, JP04171262A, in view of Chung et al., USP 5,250,094.

Regarding claims 6, 8, 10 and 16, Hirasawa teaches a reforming (abstract) system (abstract) comprising a reforming zone (not shown, but downstream of carburetor) comprising catalyst substrate (not shown but inherently present or obviously present to one of ordinary skill in the art); a ceramic mat material 2 coupled to the inlet of the reforming zone (not shown but downstream the carburetor); and a mixing zone (carburetor) fluidly coupled 5 to and down stream the mat material 2 (Fig. 1), but does not explicitly teach the mat material comprises a plurality of layers of fibrous ceramic material and having a reflective surface facing the inlet and binder material comprising adhesive.

Chung teaches a filter for filtering hydrocarbon fuel (gasoline) (abstract) wherein the mat material is comprised of ceramic fiber including zirconia having a reflective surface (zirconia is well known as a reflective ceramic oxide, See Stecura et al., USP 4,055,705 at C2/L16-40 for support of this property of zirconia) (C4/L34-44) and binding agent or adhesive (C5/L56), and it would have obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to modify Hirasawa with Chung for the purpose to provide Hirasawa with an improved ceramic filter that is pliable and capable of resisting fracture under various thermal gradients and shock (C1/L33-51). Furthermore since Chung teaches that the ceramic fiber contains reflective zirconia oxide, it would be inherent in the utilization of the filter of Chung to modify Hirasawa to have a reflective surface facing the inlet and further, it is well known in the art that metallic oxides such as zirconia inherently have white opaque coloration (See Weinrich, USP 2,628,921).

Response to Arguments

In view of the Applicant's amendment to independent claim 16, Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 6, 8, 10 and 16 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within

TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
